Dear Ms. Trull:

Our records reveal that you submitted an Admission Application but did not attend the November 13th Swearing-in ceremony at Georgia State University.

If you are still interested in being admitted, you must be sworn in at the Court and pay only a ten dollar ($10) reprinting fee for your certificate. You will need to do this before January 1, 2016 or your current admissions application will be discarded.

The Court is open for admissions every Tuesday and Thursday during business hours between 8:30 and noon and before scheduled oral arguments.

Should you decide to apply after January 1, you will have to resubmit a new application with the signatures of two members of this Court's bar and pay the thirty dollar ($30) admission fee.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Castlen

Good Morning Maria,

I don't know what she signed because the only thing she needed to do at our table was place the date she was admitted to the State Bar which was November 13. The admission application was signed when we received it. There was no other process than to hand her the certificate. More than half the attendees did not have bar numbers.

Since I was working A-L and did not see what could have occurred in the line reserved for people with last names beginning with M-Z, I will go ahead and send her the certificate based on this email message. My apologies for the error.

BTW, I was not in the office yesterday when you originally sent this message.

Lola

 Good morning Lola,

Please note Ms. Trull's email below.

Ms. Trull did attend the event on November 13th, she mentioned she stop by your table and signed a form, but was told she was not allowed to continue the process since she did not have a bar number at the event.

Did she sign anything at the event?

Thanks,
 Maria

Good morning Maria,

I just received a letter from the Georgia Court of Appeals, stating that they received my application for admission but I was not admitted because I did not attend the swearing in ceremony. I did attend the ceremony. I wanted to check with you first before I contacted them to see if you could help.

Thanks,
