Motion For Leave To File An

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE AN AMENDED COMPLAINT AND AMENDED ENUMERATION OF ERRORS

Petitioner, (ex rel) Jimmie Lee Green Junior, Sui Juris, pursuant to Rule 15(a) and 19(a), Fed. R. Civ. P., request leave to file an Amended Complaint:

INTRODUCTION

A. What many of the victims accused of maritime "crimes" don't realize is that admiralty and maritime jurisdictions were merged with the law and equity jurisdictions in 1966 (See: Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, notes to Supplementary Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims). Citing: F.R.C.P. Rule 1; Rule 81; Rule 2; Rule 9(h); Rule 38(e) and the broad language of Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, part 72.11 makes almost all crimes whether or not they are Federal or States crimes "commercial crimes". In the Propeller Genessee Chief, Supra, it was revealed that admiralty courts have jurisdiction over interstate commerce, so it would follow that the crimes listed in 27 CFR 72.11 are cognizable in an admiralty or maritime court and such are commercial courts. If the criminal accusations that plague the courts today are not in the jurisdictions of common law or equity, they must be in admiralty or maritime jurisdictions. And though admiralty and maritime jurisdictions are virtually indistinguishable, Bouvier's definition of a "Maritime cause" as those arising from maritime contracts whether made at sea or on land fits the bill. The Constitution grants the Courts only two Criminal Jurisdictions, Common Law or British Maritime Admiralty Law Tribunal. Their jurisdiction is entirely penal; "An action upon penal statute" is defined as: an action for the recovery of a penalty given by statute. The word "penal" is inherently a much broader term than "criminal" since it pertains to any punishment or penalty and relates to acts which are not necessarily delineated as criminal.

B. Notice that Georgia has a Code of Criminal Procedure, but not one Criminal law? That's right, there is no Criminal Code and not one criminal law in Georgia, but, there is a Penal Code that is just chock full of "offenses" and more are being added every time the legislature convenes. see, U.S. v. McClain, 545 F.2d. 988, rehearing den. 551 F.2d 52 (5th Cir. 1977), "Power of punishment is vested in the legislature, not in the judicial department, it is the legislature, not the court, which is to define a crime, and ordain his punishment." see also; Slusser v. State, 232 SW 2d 727, 1949, "the legislature may declare that the doing of certain acts, shall constitute the offense of sodomy, and may ignore, if it sees fit, the common law elements of the offense."

In summary and according to the courts, the legislature defines crimes, can create crime, while ignoring the common law elements of a crime and mandate the punishment for the crime it creates. There is no crime unless it is created by the legislature. These creations of the legislature are most certainly maritime "crimes". The Georgia legislature has certainly exercised its power to extend the maritime jurisdiction. This explains why the judge can amend or reverse a jury verdict, jail jurors for contempt if they don't do what the judge tells them to do, prosecutor denies witnesses on behalf of defendant, as in my case, omit evidence in favor of defendant, etc..., the jury is just there to make the sheep think that there is a trial by jury, which is an Advisory Jury.

Law, equity, admiralty and maritime, the once separate and distinct jurisdictions are now neatly rolled in to one set of rules, tried in the same courtroom with the same judge, on the same docket and with nothing posted for the public to distinguish the different jurisdictions from one another.

REASONING

C. This Court should grant leave freely to amend a complaint. Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178, 182 (1962).

- Jurisdictional facts: Those matters of fact which must exist before the court can properly take jurisdiction of the particular case, as, that the defendant has been properly served with process, that the amount in controversy exceeds a certain sum, that the parties are citizens of different states, etc. Noble v. Union River Logging Railroad Co., 147 U.S. 165, 13 S.Ct. 271, 37 L.Ed. 123.
- Laches: Conduct of party which has placed other party in a situation where his rights will be impaired and his defenses embarrassed is the basis of laches. State v. Abernathy, 159 Tenn. 175, 17 S.W. 2d 17, 19.
- Failure to state cause of action: Failure of the plaintiff to allege sufficient facts in the complaint to maintain action. In other words, even if the plaintiff proved all the facts alleged in the complaint, the fact would not establish a cause of action entitling the plaintiff to recover against defendant. The motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim is also sometimes referred, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)
- "Courts in administrative issues are prohibited from even listening to or hearing arguments, presentation, or rational." ASIS v. U.S., 568 F.2d 284.
- The Seventh Amendment preserves the right to a jury trial "[i]n suits at common law." U.S. Const. amend. VII
- Due Process Violation
Citing: Jackson 206 Fed. Appx. at 968; Hughes v. Stafford, 780 F.2d 1580; Slater v. Chatman, 147 Fed. Appx. 959; Harris v. Champion, 48 F.3d 1127
- "Jurisdiction can be challenged at any time." and "jurisdiction, once challenged, cannot be assumed and must be decided." Basso v. Utah Power & Light Co. 495 F.2d 906, 910; see also Struck v. Medical Examiners 94 Ca 2d 751, 211 P.2d 389; see also Bonner v. Bonner, 272 Ga. 545, 533 S.E. 2d 72 (2000)
- The right to allocation: see, Green v. United States, 365 U.S. 301 (1961); Taylor v. United States, 285 F.2d 703; U.S. v. Anderson, 987 F.2d 598, 599 (5th Cir. 1991).
- "[A] court cannot create a claim which [a plaintiff] has not spelled out in his pleading" (internal quotation marks omitted); Payne v. Secy of Treas., 73 F. Appx 836, 837 (6th Cir. 2003) (affirming sua sponte dismissal of complaint pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 (a)(2) and stating, "[A] either this court nor the district court is required to create Payne's claim for her").
